FAQ

Or maybe you want to record your song ideas down singing/humming them into a microphone.. Then you can convert these audio ideas to MIDI and assign them to other instruments.. Being able to take audio files, decode the transients and pitch data, and then convert this data to MIDI is a super handy feature.. And this can be done in FL Studio For example you could browse through your audio drum loops pull them into FL Studio, extract the note data and then use this converted MIDI pattern with another drum instrument in your song.
